

THE BOUGAINVILLEA IN THE PARK

You have been with me for more than twenty years and I had not even realized it.

You have been a silent witness of the most important stages of my life.

Years of complicity with just one look, emotions, laughter and joys, the crying of my children and sleepless nights, caresses, kisses and hugs, sofa and blanket afternoons, games, surprises and decisions, loving and being loved without asking for anything in return and everything that in these years has filled my heart.

I think that you flooded with your color the life that was to come, and although life is not always pink, mine has been painted bougainvillea pink.

Everything started with you...
